“Dear God”

Poem by Jeanne Leto

Dear God,
This morning as I woke
My spirit loudly spoke
All past, all pain
All sorrow and shame
Please heal me Father of them all
All past, all pain
All sorrow and shame NO more
In Jesus precious name,
Amen

Over the years, I have been privileged to be employed by Steven Machat as his personal intuitive. He's become a very dear friend. He has gently pushed me to keep on going with my writing project, and has even encouraged me in life as well. Steven is a very accomplished author, producer and activist. He's a dynamo!

Laura Canaday was a client who also became a friend. As a Taurus, she helped me to stay grounded with my project, helping file my small stories. Laura's laugh is infectious! In fact, with humor, she filed the book as Taurus Ultima! Thank God for my friends!

Preface

Hope Angels came about when my struggle as an intuitive and my belief in Christianity came to a colossal collision. Growing up sensitive – feeling, hearing, and seeing things beyond the physical realm – conflicted with the church’s teachings. I love God. I love Jesus Christ. I believe in each of them. One day, in conflict again with my abilities, I asked God what he wanted me to do. As plain as day, a voice said, “Give my people hope. Be a seer for me. Serve me and give hope.” Since that day, my reading sessions are in His hands. I do not seek to read at parties or force my work. Everything is now in God’s name, for His glory, and as I pray before each reading session, I call on God and His angels for guidance. Mostly, I pray for hope. God loves everyone, and everyone deserves hope.

“Angel Chills” are simply what I get when I am feeling truth or when I am physically touched by angels. Hence, Hope Angels and Angel Chills.

This book will teach you how to access God’s faithful angels. We were created by God for a purpose and so were His angels. Angels are appointed to serve, heal, protect and guide. Each angel that serves God is waiting to help. I’ve been blessed to have experienced all three angelic realms including the highest order – the seraphim!

I invite you to enjoy the true experiences I’ve had as much as I did, and may you get “Angel Chills”.

I’d like to thank all the angels in my life, the winged angels and the human loved ones. Not to forget my furry angelic ones: 16 cats, five deer, a fox, and a very sassy raccoon who may not exactly be an angel! Even so, Ray-Ray the raccoon is dearly loved.

God sent me Earth angels to complete this booklet. Linda Ciotola, a friend and “prayer sister” added a few of her own “angel chills” stories. I also want to thank Renee Shockley for contributing her true stories and I’m grateful the angels got me into the artwork. Fellow artist Erin Fluharty supported my efforts when life slowed me down from the project. Although it’s simple artwork, it felt good to complete a few pieces for the angel booklet.

Erin Fluharty is an artist in Easton, MD.

Hope Angel Prayer

Hope Angel, please stay always near.
Hope Angel, your love for me is dear.
Hope Angel, you never lead me astray.
By darkness of night and by the light of day,
Hope Angel, you are always beside me.
Because of you, God's love I will always see.

Introduction

Growing up in a very small river-front town, I honestly could never comprehend why I was so different from the other children around me. It wasn't that outdoor activities weren't enjoyable – swimming, dodgeball, softball, bike riding – but my sensitivity to animals and people, and hearing and feeling things around me that the other children could not, always puzzled me.

Every night since the age of two years old, I'd get on my knees and ask God to protect me and my loved ones. There was always a sense of the "others", good and bad. My earlier experiences were not too scary, but when I reached my teenage years the beings in the night became increasingly aggressive, to the point of going to bed was a great source of anxiety. For years, until I entered my thirties, I pretty much shut down the "visitors" until a simple surgery went very wrong and I had a near death experience. From that point forward, I could no longer escape the visitations. As I became physically stronger over a three year period of hospital stays and a permanent change of lifestyle, I learned how to control and use my gifting. I learned about the various angels, I read scripture, and I prayed. Connecting to God has always been a blessing and a necessity for me.

Why Angels?

Before I came out publicly with my intuitive gifts, I was always drawn to heavenly beings. As young as three years of age, I knew God and the supernatural was real. I always felt an alternative world going on behind every corner. Sometimes I sensed, or actually saw light beings. Which now I realize are angels. Angels became a bit of an obsession by the time I was in my twenties. When I decorated my apartments in New York City or Los Angeles, I would buy some kind of angel art. The pieces made me feel safe and calm. By the time I purchased my first home in my thirties, I bought a beautiful dark haired, Grecian-like angel and hung her in the living room. My dad was half Greek and I definitely had more of a Mediterranean type attitude than the other bloodlines that flowed through me! This Greek angel was infectious in her beauty and peace. Even visitors in my home stopped and commented on how captivating she was. Everyone said she seemed real, and very much alive.

Shortly after I bought my first home, I had my near death experience, and that's when I began using my gifts to help others. My love of angels just naturally went hand in hand with my reading sessions. I learned as much as I could about the different angels, and started calling them in to my reading sessions for protection and guidance. They are different color rays, they have different gifts and they are different sizes, just like humans. But, you can count on them much more than any human. I felt drawn to teach about them, and for a few years held angel classes. During each class, there were amazing experiences. Angels are magnificent beings that will enhance every area of your life. You will never go wrong travelling with angels. It's like having your own group of warriors encamping about you and your dwelling. As they say, be kind to strangers because you could be entertaining angels unaware.

About Angels

The Archangels

Angels, messengers of God, come in different light rays and have different abilities. They are all just a call away and I want to share true experiences of angels I've called upon.

Working with angels has been magical and healing; each one holds a different place in my heart, and they are waiting to work with you. You don't have to be pious or religious to work with the angels. Just be yourself, holding only good intentions in your heart!

Archangel Michael

Archangel Michael, whose name means "like God", is my favorite. Archangel Michael defeated Satan in battle. He is known as a warrior and a strong protector of police officers, servicemen, firefighters and other emergency responders. When I began teaching about angels, Archangel Michael showed up. Archangel Michael and Archangel Raphael (Healer of God) are the two angels I ask to assist during my client readings.

During one angel class, as all the participants gathered into a large circle, I invited Archangel Michael to join us and protect us. As we prayed and called out to Archangel Michael, an enormous sapphire blue bolt of light descended into the circle. Everyone in the class was witness to the brilliant blue and I saw his silhouette, including an outline of his sword. Each of us felt his power and peace. At one point, we even felt the tip of his sword upon our shoulders. Every attendee became flushed from feeling his heat. When the other angels touch us, we feel a chill, when the Archangel Michael touches us, he delivers a sensation of heat. Both individual clients and those in my angel classes are touched by Archangels Michael and Raphael.

There are innumerable Archangel Michael prayers on the internet, but all you have to do is call out to him, “Archangel Michael, Archangel Michael please come to me now. Protect me from evil and stay by my side day and night.” He will honor that invitation and come. Archangel Michael is the quintessential gentleman; ask and he will come. When Archangel Michael is near me, I see blue light, feel a sensation of heat, or find a feather. Animals are also indicators when Archangel Michael or any other angels are around. Animals become very peaceful, almost as if they were in a daze and will follow angels with their eyes.

Archangel Raphael

Archangel Raphael’s ray of light is emerald green. He is a healing angel but can also be called upon when someone is traveling. The Bible mentions Archangel Raphael as traveling with a young man, Tobias. The Bible also shares how Archangel Raphael healed a young woman of an evil spirit, as well as healing the father of Tobias of his blindness. Whereas Archangel Michael is known for heat, and coming in from the South, Archangel Raphael uses both hot and cold touches to do his healing work and comes in from the East. To invoke Archangel Raphael, simply call out his name three times. Lighting candles also signals both Archangel Michael and Archangel Raphael that they are invited to come.

Archangel Gabriel

Archangel Gabriel is the Angel of the North, where Heaven is. His name means “God is my strength”. In the Bible, Archangel Gabriel made several announcements for God including the birth of Jesus and bringing messages to those in need. He also assisted with writing spiritual books. Archangel Gabriel has a very white light appearance along with gold and silver rays from his countenance. When you need to write something, call out Archangel Gabriel’s name several times. The day of Jesus is coming, and when that day arrives Archangel Gabriel will hover over earth blowing his horn as he did more than two thousand years ago to Mary, Joseph, and Wise Men.

Archangel Azrael

While the spirit of death comes to take life, the angel of death, Archangel Azrael, or “Help from God”, assists with crossing from life to death. Archangel Azrael also helps comfort the family of the dying bringing peace to the process. While his duty isn’t the most popular, Archangel Azrael is very loving.

Archangel Uriel

Coming from the west is Archangel Uriel who is known for lightning strikes. During one of my angel group sessions held near Maryland’s Chesapeake Bay, Archangel Uriel, meaning “God is my light”, came through in a dramatic way. As we started the group by praying, and as I gave prophetic messages to some of the women present, it became windy and a massive lightning bolt hit the property of the group’s hostess. I witnessed him drop from the sky on a mystic white horse just as
